EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Reginald W. Griffith

At its meeting on June 11, the National Capital Planning Commission adopted and released the following statement concerning the location of facilities for foreign missions and international agencies in the District of Columbia:

"The Commission believes that it has not yet been demonstrated to the Commission that there is a problem in the operation of the District zoning process for providing for the location of foreign missions and international agencies. In this context, the Commission reaffirms that the Commission's policy on the location of foreign missions and international agencies is that contained in the "Foreign Missions and International Agencies Element of the Comprehensive Plan for the National Capital" which the Commission adopted on October 6, 1977, as amended, which provides that the proper method of implementation is through the local zoning process, specifically in sections 313.82 and 313.92 which provide that the criteria and plan policies for facilities for foreign missions and international agencies will be implemented through the Zoning Regulations of the District of Columbia and the zoning maps forming a part thereof, an instruction which the Zoning Commission of the District of Columbia subsequently has carried out."
